Today, a law firm representing Rockefeller University issued a report regarding the sexual abuse of children and teenagers that Dr. Reginald Archibald engaged in for decades while employed at Rockefeller University. Cuti Hecker Wang LLP and Paul Mones represent nearly 200 victims of this appalling sexual abuse, and are working hard to redress the damage caused by Dr. Archibald and Rockefeller University.

The report confirms what we have found during our own comprehensive investigation into Dr. Archibald's misconduct: that Dr. Archibald sexually abused hundreds, and likely thousands, of patients, including by fondling their genitalia for no legitimate medical purpose and, in many cases, by masturbating them to ejaculation. The report documents multiple patient complaints over the course of decades and concerns among administrators at Rockefeller, which apparently did not result in any steps to protect patients during Dr. Archibald's lengthy tenure at Rockefeller.

Mariann Wang said: "This report, while disappointingly shallow and short, confirms and acknowledges what our clients already knew: that Dr. Archibald was a sexual predator who abused and seriously harmed countless innocent children and teenagers."

Paul Mones said: "This report is only the very beginning of what we hope will be a full reckoning of both Dr. Archibald's crimes and the negligence of Rockefeller University. We remain committed to seeking justice for our nearly 200 clients and the broader community of Dr. Archibald's patients."
